THANKS BETH!

We (W. White, M. Perl, and Candace Pannbacker and I just concluded a meeting where W. White reviewed the (your) Friday meeting with us.

Candace Pannbacker (KSU Certification Officer) will be calling you with 3 questions that we have relative to the October report.

This is actually a duplicate of the questions I wrote on the evaluation form. Friends does require passing of the PPST in order to student teach. However, we have made a few exceptions and allowed students to complete the coursework and become degreed without passing the test. Do we count them as program completers who failed the test, or wait to count them for the year in which they pass? Thanks for your help.

I know everyone is busy this time of year so I will be brief. I have an opportunity to talk with ETS via a conference call on Monday morning. If you need answers, please send the questions ASAP. I will definitely inquire about two name - last names.

I'm sure everyone has submitted the request form for an ETS password and I know you are all anxiously awaiting the opportunity to view their website. Just to review the major change from last Friday's meeting, you no longer send your program completer/data to me - it goes directly to ETS.

Subject: T2 clarifications

Hi Beth--

1. Any word yet on whether KU should report as program completers certificatees in severe/multiple disabilities and early childhood special education? Alisa Branham tells me that neither group is mandated to take either the PPST or PLT though of course that changes with licensure redesign. Many but not all of these program completers have taken the NTE (& now the PLT), and a few will have taken the PPST. Obviously, we'd be at a disadvantage if these people need to be reported. But, what the hell. Just let us know as soon as you can.

2. Also, please help me understand a possible discrepancy between what I heard the other day in Topeka and the Hartanowicz ETS letter, the latest edition of which is dated 23 August. On page 2 of the letter, 2nd paragraph under the heading, "passwords," she refers to the timeline for the reporting process and uses a Sept 1 - Aug 31 range. I thought we all agreed the other day that we'd go with July 1 to June 30 as the range that constitutes a year's worth of program completers. Maybe I'm just confused and am worrying about two unrelated things here.

Martha -- if you have time to pipe in here as well, that'd be great.
Thanks!

You're a dear, Beth; sorry for all the questions. Alisa reminded me of one more. Our dept. of human development (not a part of the Sch of Ed) has an early childhood program that prepares people to be preschool teachers and these people, as I understand it, take the PPST & PLT and become state-certified. Given that they are preschool rather than K-12 teachers, what's your take on whether they meet the law's intent -- at least currently? With licensure redesign and the infancy & EC licenses, we'll of course need to report 'em down the road, but for this year & next what do you think?

Subject: ETS...hmmm?

Beth,

Just an FYI...we faxed our info sheet to ETS on August 15 to get our passwords. We got a certified letter a week later, but no passwords--just a generic package telling us to fax the (same) info sheet to get our passwords, and within a week they would be sent. I emailed the person in charge of passwords to see if she had indeed gotten our original confirmed fax. She had. She said she had sent those letters to everyone, and that she would mail our passwords by Certified Letter then. Now, it's September 8 (about a month since we sent the fax), and still no passwords. Not having the passwords for a while is not a big deal--we'll have time, but I wonder if this is the way things are going to go...slowly and unpredictably! It would be more helpful if they didn't promise a date to deliver if they can't. If this becomes a pattern, we're going to have to build non-response time into our plan! Just thought you should be alerted to the situation.

Subject: T2 Q

Quick question, Beth; one that I should know but due to neutral neurons don't.

I'm sitting here trying to decide whether or not to recommend to our faculty for approval that all KU program completers either take or pass the PLT (and a couple of years down the road the appropriate content test or tests).

What confuses me is that it seems if such a completion requirement were in place, it ought to stipulate that the completer passes the doggone thing not just take it. Jerry, is this what your place is doing? If we'd say "take the PLT" as a program completion requirement, would we not increase the odds that more folks would not pass it?

The main question then for you Beth (& Jerry too) is: it seems that T2 is interested in pass rates, i.e. #pass/#who take. The info we will submit to ETS in October is the list of program completers. Of these, only a proportion will have taken the PLT and of that group a proportion (hopefully 100%) will have passed. These are the data we submit in the Spring. Does T2 force us to look only at #pass/#who take, or are we potentially penalized for #completers/# who take tests?

Hope this makes sense. Jerry, are you aware of other institutions that are requiring grads to take or to pass PLTs. Think I'd be wasting my time to poll the institutions?

Thanks all.

We need the review comments returned by September 20. This will allow us time to write the final copy and make the October 1 deadline.

As of 9/8 - 16 Kansas Institutions have received passwords from ETS. If your institution has not received a password please advise me ASAP. Two institutions - BAKER & SOUTHWESTERN have already completed their data entry online. Thanks for being so prompt!

I hope to have the Blackboard location working by the end of the month. Until then, keep thinking about supplemental information ideas.

Beth,

Question for you on entering the program completers: On the alternate last names, do I enter only if I know that they took tests with 2 different names? eg, I have a student who has a different last name now, but I don't know if she had a different name when she took the NTE. Am I better off submitting possibilities, or should I look in my hard copy and see what the last names were so that they only get absolutes?

Hope this makes sense...please advise. Thanks.

Beth,

Soon I will be entering our data directly to ETS and I need clarification about one item you sent to us in the "State Plan." I am referring to page 4 at the top of the page where it says, "The higher education institution is responsible for recommending endorsement areas determined by completion of the candidates program of study. Attachment # lists approved endorsement areas by institution." What does this refer to? Does it refer to the codes contained on the blue piece of paper entitled "Kansas Lincenses" where a total of four codes is listed, KST1, KST2, KST3, and KST4? Or does it refer to something which was not attached to this email?

I would appreciate some guidance on this. Thank you for your expertise.

We are in the process of entering our data on the Title II site. A question that we have and I think I know the answer, but just checking. If we have a number of people who were program completers, but never took the Professional Knowledge test, do we still enter them? I think that we do, because they took the PPST. ETS would be verifying that they did not fail the test?
Is that correct?

Right now we are just entering the student information. Do you know how we enter the supplemental information? The mission statement, number of supervisors, etc?
